

Coldplay - Clocks

“Come out upon my seas, cursed missed opportunities.

Am I part of the cure? Or am I part of the disease?”

A great song to practice both your alternate picking and your strumming. Nice and easy chords :) Remember to check out the left hand technique! Also, when you are picking, make sure you let the strings ring so they can blend with one another.

The structure of the song can be a bit confusing. A good way to grasp what to play when is to play along to the original track. Printing out the lyrics and following those help as well. The song is obviously a little bit dry without vocals. Chris Martin (the singer) uses a lot of falsetto so I understand it can be quite intimidating! Maybe try an octave lower?
